

MEET MORAG

Morag Barrett is a leadership expert, executive coach, and award-winning author who believes that #BetterTogether isn't just a hashtag—it's the secret to thriving at work and in life.

As the founder and CEO of SkyeTeam, Morag has helped 15,000+ leaders across 20 countries transform workplace relationships and build high-performing teams. Whether working in-person, remotely, or in a hybrid environment, her message is clear: you cannot high-perform alone.

She is the author of Cultivate: The Power of Winning Relationships and You, Me, We: Why We All Need a Friend at Work (and How to Show Up as One!), where she reveals how relationship blind spots derail careers and team success. Through her pioneering Relationship Ecosystem™ model, Morag helps leaders strengthen trust, navigate tough conversations, and build powerful partnerships.

Her mission? Creating cultures of connection—one conversation and one relationship at a time.

When she's not transforming workplaces, you'll find her playing the bassoon, ballroom dancing, or reminding her three towering sons that she still reigns supreme at Scrabble.

Let's be honest—have you ever:

- Lost sleep over how to deliver a tough conversation at work?
- Thought you nailed a project, only to get feedback that stung just a little?
- Realized who you know matters more than what you know... only to wonder, "Wait, who actually knows me?"

If any of these hit close to home, you're in the right place.

Morag Barrett believes that #BetterTogether isn't just a hashtag—it's the secret to thriving at work and in life. In an age where technology creates the illusion of connection, real human relationships remain the cornerstone of success. Whether in-person, remote, or hybrid, one truth remains—you cannot high-perform alone.

As the founder and CEO of SkyeTeam, Morag has helped more than 15,000 leaders across 20 countries strengthen trust, navigate office politics, and turn workplace relationships into powerful partnerships.

She's the award-winning author of Cultivate: The Power of Winning Relationships and You, Me, We: Why We All Need a Friend at Work (and How to Show Up as One!). Her pioneering Relationship Ecosystem™ model reveals how relationship blind spots derail careers and team success—and more importantly, how to fix them.

Morag is here to challenge the way you think about leadership, teamwork, and the relationships that fuel success. And if that's not enough, she's also a ballroom dancer, a bassoon-playing musician, and the proud mother of three towering sons—all of whom know better than to challenge her to a game of Scrabble.

So get ready to look up, show up, and step up—because today, we're about to transform the way we work together.

Please join me in welcoming our people expert and relationship champion... Morag Barrett!
